Thank you for your focus, your patience, and the incredible talent that you all brought to this process. We were so impressed with the level of professionalism, maturity, and creative play you all exhibited, and especially your willingness to flex to the different needs of both shows casting at once. Welcome to (what I like to call) The Dream Team!

Please get your scripts from 317 Murphy and arrange right away to get measured for your costumes. Rehearsals begin February 1, but I will assign some basic research and reading for you to begin over winter break and before we begin in earnest. Congratulations – I am looking forward to working with you on this new play!

Onward!
